

Hallow Beautiful People. I know it has been a while since my last message went out. Life has been increasing in its intensity in all areas and what an exciting time it is to be on this amazing planet as the Cycle for Life Eternal draws to a close.

The message I have here today is really a letter of response to comments made that I deny the words of Jesus. While it is a response, it is also an opportunity for me to share more forgotten knowledge and therefore more perspective for those who read these words. It also helps me to establish and define a clearer position with certain issues such as religion because I am aware that there are people who want to better know where I stand.

Hi Paul,

Thank you very much for facilitating an opportunity to respond to such a comment. I find comments like these inspiring and empowering. They also teach me how to respond honestly and firmly but with humility, compassion and Grace.

I do not deny the words of Jesus, I renounce the words of the church and its priest casts who continue to perpetuate and propagate their lies and literary dogma as they have done so for thousands of years.

They continue to deceive people with flesh and blood rituals dressed up as sacred ceremonies called communion. The Jesus I know was incensed to the point of rage when he threw the tables outside the temples/churches because the money changers were taking advantage of the people and the representatives of the priest casts were selling animals that were being used for flesh and blood rituals inside the temples/churches.

Just because they have a more sophisticated version of it now does not make it good. It does not matter how many different ways you dress it up and try to justify it, be it symbolic or otherwise, at the end of it all

IT IS STILL A FLESH AND BLOOD RITUAL !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Please wake up everyone, we are in duality. Things are back to front. Who do you think is really running the church? It's even written in many scriptures and texts of this deception through the dark ages and right up to the end of days. Do not underestimate the sophistication of this illusion. Don't be fooled by their ways. Don't be so naive and gullible to think that the same group of beings aren't running the church again today.

They persecuted Jesus then, and they will do so again. Only this time the church will openly call him the anti-christ. They are only interested in promoting their version of the Christ.

It took them 300yrs to regroup and recreate their literary dogma at the Creed Of Nicea in 325AD, which you call the bible, and have been forcing it into the psyche of the people ever since. They cleverly manipulate the words through translations to suite each era gently steering and guiding humanity down a certain mindset towards the final stage of our journey in an attempt to stop as many people as possible from merging into the organic path to the true light and ascending into pure Christos Love.

The Word of God is not ink on paper! The Word of God is the Logos. It's a vibration, a frequency, an energy and a state of being that resonates and permeates throughout all life. The objective of the church with its literary dogma is to put layers and layers of twisted truths over a person's awareness disconnecting them from the true Logos, crushing and reducing their spirit down to a follower who gives their power away. A so called disciple and, they glorify it.

The Jesus I know would never want people getting down on their knees begging for salvation like a subservient slave through ritualistic prayers of humility. He asks nothing more than the acknowledgement of ones own sovereignty, ones own essence, a free sovereign spirit of the Universal creation that is in harmony with the flow of life and therefore one with the Divine Plan. The church however, is hell bent on taking that away. The entity that controls the church sees you as its property. It wants to own you. It needs you. It needs to feed off your power just like the overwhelming majority of gurus and so called masters do.

The Jesus I know honours the Feminine as his equal, fully respects her, acknowledges and understands the sacrifice she has endured, and knows that Petra means the rock, the earth beneath his feet and the unconditional love, nurturing and support that can only come from a woman who is the rock behind every man. He honours the Divine Feminine that is the consciousness of this Earth that nurtures us every moment of every day, giving us the air that we breathe, the water that we drink and the food that we eat.

The Jesus I know honours the Divine Feminine that walked this beloved planet as the incarnation of Mother Earth herself and the embodied Christ Sophia in The Magdalene. The Jesus I know is a man of honour who loved and cherished his wife, his soul mate and his twin flame, who literally embodied the feminine aspect of his own Being.

Here is a quote from Jesus from the Essene Gospel of Peace which was conveniently left out of the bible as were hundreds of other more significant gospels and texts.

"And now shall all the Angels of the Earthly Mother serve you and your breath, your blood and your flesh shall be one with the breath, the blood and the flesh of the Earthly Mother. That your spirit may also become one with the spirit of the Heavenly Father. For I tell you truly, no one can reach the Heavenly Father unless through the Earthly Mother."

Like I said in my talk, "I'm into Christianity not churchianity!"

People ask me how I know what I'm talking about. Well not only do I have all my extraordinary experiences as you are now all well aware, and my connection with my own essence through my greater Being and therefore the Universal Consciousness, though still limited, but I have incarnated into one of the hidden bloodlines of the great patriarchs of the Christian Church. It flows back through the Byzantine period and right back to the time of Paul the Apostle. The name Kavassilas originates from Saint Silas who came from the province of Kavala. Silas is the one who left Paul after Paul had his awakening into the true Light and knowledge of the Christ Sophia. Silas then travelled back to the Middle East from Greece to set up the male chauvinistic church with the followers of Peter that has persecuted the feminine ever since.

The original church was left to the Magdalene not Peter and this incensed Peter and his followers who were heavily influenced by the existing priesthoods of the time. It is through Peter that the priesthood managed to infiltrate the earthly Council of Twelve at the time (meaning Jesus and the Twelve Apostles, the Christ is the Thirteenth member of the Council of Twelve, a fractal of the Universal structure). Please understand that what I am sharing with you is what has been some of the most closely guarded secrets of the church throughout the past two millennia. Just think of all the millions and millions of innocent people that have been persecuted, tortured and murdered throughout the dark and middle ages because the church wanted to hide the truth and enforce their own model of reality onto the masses.

You see this knowledge is coursing through my veins. It permeates and reverberates throughout my cellular memory, and my Being has the responsibility of transmuting the energy of the male dominated Christian church. I embody these words and that is why I can stand up and speak from a place of authenticity what needs to be said. Like I said in my talk "I live this stuff!" As I also explained in my talk, it is the time of the Apocalypse, which means it's time for the knowledge to come from the good spirit, the time for the truth to be revealed and the deception to be exposed.

You may also be interested to know that it seems the Da Vinci Code portraying Silas as the male chauvinistic monk, who during that scene on the plane said that every breath a woman takes is a sin, was an accurate portrayal of the early church and its hidden agenda after all. Especially a woman who is a direct descendant of the Magdalene and Jesus bloodline.

Well Paul I hope what I have shared with you here today helps you and all others who may read these words with your powers of discernment, as controversial as some of what I have just written may seem to some. The truth does hurt when one is immersed so deeply into an illusion. And for others it will resonate and be liberating.

I share love, liberation and fortitude to you and all who may read this response regardless of what your conclusions may be.....
